The Western Lunatic Asylum.
The 60th annual report of the Western Lunatic Asylum, Dr. D. B. Conrad, superintendent, has been submitted.

The report commences by stating that one year ago there were in the Asylum 627; admitted since, 86. There have died 36, and have been discharged 45, leaving on the 1st of October, 632; on February 29. The full capacity of the asylum is 600, and its curative capacity 175 less. The number actually in the asylum now is 598, leaving only two vacant beds. There are no vacant rooms. The average daily population during the year was 631, and the highest number in the Asylum during the year was 713.

During the year there were 311 applications for admission, 225 of which were rejected. In the various counties there are now awaiting admittance, 125 lunatics. Of the total population of the Asylum only 20 are classed as probable recoveries, leaving 612 incurables and stationary. Four hundred of these latter are harmless and could safely be associated together in large rooms.

There are 33 pny patients in the asylum.
Of the 15 applications for admission of pay patients during the year, 7 were rejected.

The average cost per patient during the year was $153.35. This includes all repairs to buildings, all permanent improvements, clothing, fuel, food, medicine, etc.

Dr. Conrad, in discussing the crowded condition of the asylum, says it is the late of all old asylums to become in the course of years filled with the chronic incurable classes, and unless they be relieved of these incurables, either by the establishment of asylums for the purely chronic insane, or are enlarged, they die. During the 60 years treating 4,000, there are now left in this asylum 612, who will be there during their natural lives. The asylum now is practically filled with incurables, and some remedy must be found and applied. The superintendent suggests the addition of two buildings for the reception of 400 patients of the quiet, harmless and incurable class. This will give vacancies for 400 new and curable cases, and thus renew the life of the asylum by allowing it once more to receive and cure.
An asylum capable of accommodating 400 patients could be built and equipped throughout for $50,000. This, says Dr. Conrad, is the only mode of relief which presents itself that is practicable, speedy, certain and economical. In connection with the recommendation are suggestions as to the plans &c., of the buildings, which should be near those already in use and under the direction of the same medical corps. The superintendent prefers this to distinct asylums in different places for the two classes of patients.

A Specimen Told.
They had been married three weeks and had just gone to housekeeping. He was starting down town one morning, and she followed him to the door. They had their arms wrapped around each other, and she was saying: "Oh, Clarence, do you think it possible that the day can ever come when we will part in anger?"

"Why, no, little puss," he said. "Of course not. What put that foolish idea into my little birdie's head, eh?"

"Oh, nothing, dearest. I was only thinking how perfectly dreadful it would be if one of us should speak harshly to the other."

"Well, don't think of such wicked, utterly impossible things any more," he said.
"We can never, never quarrel!"

"I know it, darling. Good-bye, you dear old precious, good-bye, and—oh, wait a second. Clarence, I've written a note to mamma; can't you run around to the house and leave it for her some time today?"

"Why, yes, dearest, if I have time."

"If you have time? Oh, Clarence!"

"What is it, little girl?"

"Oh, to say if you have time to do almost the very first errand your little wife asks you to do."

"Well, well, sissy, I'm awfully busy now."

"Too busy to please me? Oh, Clarence you hurt my feelings!"

"Why, child, I—"

"I'm not a child, Clarence; I'm a married woman, and I—"

"There, there, my pet, I—"

"No, no, Clarence; if I were your p—p—et, you'd try to—"

"But, Mabel, do be reasonable."

"Oh, Clarence, don't speak to me so."

"Mabel, be sensible and—"

"Go on, Clarence, go on; break my heart."

"Stuff and nonsense!"

"Oh, a—o—oh!"

"What have I said or done?"

"As if you said to ask! But go. Hate me if you will, Clarence; I—"

"This is rank nonsense!"

"I'll go back to mamma if you want me to. She loves me if you don't."

"You must be crazy!"

"Oh, yes; queer as a cat—ridiculous me. Perhaps you had better strike me."

He hangs the door, goes down the steps on the jump, and races off, muttering something about women being the "quickest creatures."

Of course, they'll make it up at noon, and they'll have many such a little fluff in the years to come; and when they're old they'll say: "We've lived together forty five years, and never, no, never, spoken a cross word to each other in all that time."—Tribute.

Life in the Paris Sewers is possible, for a short time to the robust, but the majority of refined persons would prefer immediate death to existence in their reeking atmosphere. How much more revolting to be in one's self a living sewer.

But this is actually the case with those in whom the inactivity of the liver drives the refuse matter of the body to escape through the lungs, breath, the pores, kidneys and bladder. It is astonishing that life remains in such a dwelling. Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" restores normal purity to the system and renews the whole being.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Mrs. WINSLOW'S Infant's Syrup, for children teething, is the prescription of one of the best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and has been used for forty years with never-failing success by millions of mothers for their children. It cures the process of teething, its value is incalculable. It relieves the child from pain, cures dysentery and diarrhoea, griping in the bowels, and wind-colic. By giving health to the child it cures the mother. Price 25 cents a bottle. Prepared by J. C. WOODLEY, M.D.,
